

The Sharp-shinned Hawk (Accipiter striatus) is a small, woodland raptor that preys mainly on songbirds. It's short, rounded wings and long tail helps it maneuver swiftly through the trees and bushes.

Braddock Bay Raptor Research